

BECOME A NINJA BROTHER (OR SISTER!)

You might not have a magic ring, but you can still be a Ninja Brother or Sister!

The secret weapon?

KINDNESS!

See a friend
in need?

classmate having trouble
in class?

A neighbor who can't seem to join everyone else's fun?

Step in and show them
what a true friend (and Ninja!) does.

1

Next time you see a classmate without anyone to play with at recess, ask him or her to play with you. Even if they don't end up playing with you and your friends, they'll appreciate that you tried to keep them included in the fun.

2

Have a friend like Tommy who has a mind that works differently? What is he or she really good at? Figure out a game you can play together that helps him feel good about his special skills. Can't sit still? Tag, you're it!

3

Everyone has a bad day now and then. If one of your friends or classmates seems down, it's ok to ask them what's wrong. Sometimes a kind word from a friend can turn an entire day around.

4

Tell your friends about your new mission as a Ninja: spreading kindness. Read this book with a friend and come up with your own ways to help another friend feel good about themselves.

But don't stop there...

YOUR STORY - FEATURED!

...Tell us about how you've been a Ninja Brother or Sister and helped friends and classmates with your new secret skills. Ask a parent to help you submit your Ninja story on RobertMartinAuthor.com. We just might feature your Ninja act of kindness in our upcoming Ninja Brothers books!
